

Christos Nicolaides (BSc IT)

International Relations (IREL) Senior Consultant, Middle East Office

Christos Nicolaides has a B.Sc in Computer Science with specialization in Data Management from the University of Toronto (Canada). Christos is currently the Director of IHE Innovative Business Services (Business Consultancy) where he offers consulting services on funding possibilities from national or European funds. He also manages or coordinates EU projects in which his organisation is involved. He is also an approved trainer on corporate leadership, sustainability, coaching and mentoring. He is a member of the Chartered Management Institute in the UK. His organisation offers consulting and professional training services on management systems, supply chain and hospitality.

Prior to his current engagement, Christos was the owner and director of DekaPlus Business Services Ltd, a consultancy firm on the Supply Chain and Information Technology. Since 2015, DekaPlus has merged with three other consulting firms to form of IHE Innovative Business Services.